Sheriff's Office uses new online tool to solve property crimes

LeadsOnline, the nation's largest online investigative tool, helps police instantly track and recover stolen property no matter where it is stolen or sold.

In an effort to further combat crime in Bracken County, the Bracken County Sheriff's Office is now using LeadsOnline – an investigative system that enables detectives to search for suspects and stolen property across secondhand stores, scrap metal recyclers, precious metal buyers, pawn shops, and internet (eBay) drop-off stores both locally and nationwide.

The system equips criminal investigators with the ability to instantly solve crimes and return goods to their rightful owners. Property can be searched using serial numbers, suspect name, item descriptions, or other information. Most searches are completed within seconds. Often, these property crimes are associated with larger crimes such as robberies, fraud, drug use and drug trafficking.

"This is the largest online investigative system of its kind nationwide. Our investigators are using it to solve crimes ranging from burglaries to homicides by instantly searching for missing items in the transaction records of businesses across the area and the country."

Without LeadsOnline, investigators had to undertake a time-consuming process of visiting or calling all the stores in the area. With LeadsOnline, information is automatically collected from businesses each day. Businesses that participate with the program accept merchandise from the public and are now reporting electronically via LeadsOnline.

"More than 3,200 law enforcement agencies and businesses across the country are using the system to the benefit of countless victims of crime. We're excited about the opportunity to serve Bracken County and are expecting great results," said Dave Finley, CEO of LeadsOnline.

After only three weeks of use in Bracken County the Sheriff's Office was able to locate a surface computer at a Cincinnati Pawn Shop through the LeadsOnline program. This recovery would not have been possible had it not been for the use of this program. The subject that pawned the item will be charged in Cincinnati for receiving stolen property. Sheriff Niemeier believes that this will be a very valuable tool in our fight to locate stolen property from the county and possibly bring the offenders to justice.

For more information, contact Sheriff Howard W. Niemeier or visit www.leadsonline.com.

Coaches show their "heart" through the "Kiss the Pig" fundraiser

One of the goals of the Superintendent's Student Advisory Council is to give back to the community through service learning projects. Each semester, the SSAC will select a different civic group to donate money to through fund raisers. During the first semester of the 2014-2015 school year, the SSAC hosted a penny drive and a Kiss the Pig contest with all proceeds benefiting the Wounded Warrior Project. Through their efforts, they were able to donate over $200.00 to this wonderful organization.

Their second semester fund raising efforts will be donated a little closer to home. Kicking off their second semester fund raising, the SSAC organized and held a cake auction on January 23rd when the Augusta Panthers and Lady Panthers hosted the teams from Robertson Co. Between the cake auction and the Split the Pot that evening, the SSAC was able to raise over $2,000. This money will be donated to the families of Gracie Hurst and Samantha Bustos. Gracie is a 3rd grader at Augusta Independent who has been diagnosed with ovarian cancer, and is currently receiving treatment to fight this terrible disease. Samantha, a Robertson Co. Senior, just recently lost her battle with ovarian cancer after a courageous fight. These young ladies continue to be an inspiration for so many in both communities.

Junior class officers include: Connor Maddox, Owens Crawford, Brenna Wilson, Chris Staggs and Samantha Kennard.

The members of the Augusta Independent Superintendent's Student Advisory Council appreciate Mr. Perry Poe, Mr. Joe Goecke and all the people that came out to show their support by purchasing a cake and split the pot tickets. They were very thankful to be able to bring together two very tight knit communities like Augusta and Robertson County to fight for one cure.

Bracken County Farm Bureau Celebrates Food Check-out Week

In recognition of Food Check-out Week Bracken County Farm Bureau will be celebrating February 15-21, 2015 in recognition of this event. Their set-up to celebrate this will be located at Lee's IGA in Brooksville and K's Bestway in Augusta. Farm Bureau will give away a $50 grocery card at each of the locations.

When you go to the store just sign in with your name and phone number. No charge for entering . Final drawing will be on Saturday, February 21 at noon at each store. On Tuesday, February 3rd the Bracken County Lady Bears traveled to Ft. Thomas Highlands for a game that was rescheduled due to the Lady Bears making the Class A State tournament. Entering the contest, Junior guard Bailey Cummins needed 21 points to tie Molly Linville Schultz as the Lady Bears all-time leading scorer.

With 14 seconds remaining in the game, Cummins drove by her defender for a layup in the lane. A large standing ovation erupted as the layup gave Bailey her 22nd and 23rd points for the evening making her the top scorer in Lady Bear History.

Cummins has also passed Molly Linville Schultz for most points scored in a single season. She now has over 600 this season and counting. She set a single game record in January as she scored 48 points vs Pendleton County.

Her family, teammates, and many other Lady Bear supporters enjoyed a reception in the school's library Saturday, February 7th, after the game to honor Bailey and her achievement. She is the daughter of Coy and Amy Cummins.

The PBN would like to congratulate Bailey on this milestone!

By the Late W. T. Breeze

On the removal of very large old forest trees, excavations made beneath them, human bones were found. The valley had been the burial of a race of large stature than the settlers. Inquiry among the living tribes found no knowledge of the existence of any race ever living there.

South was unbroken forest except for Indian trails and paths made by great herds of buffalo on their way to and from the salt springs on the Licking River from the great grass prairies of the west.

The settlers soon destroyed the natives, the buffalo, the forests and the soil. Streams that in flood ran crystal clear now run thick with the soil to build an ever larger delta where the Mississippi finds haven in the Gulf of Mexico, while a benevolent government endeavors to rebuild the six inches of topsoil that feeds them humanity. December 14, 1796 was legislative permission of organize the county as of June 1, 1797, four years after the statehood. It was taken from Mason and Campbell counties and named for William Bracken who sleeps somewhere in the watershed of the creeks bearing his name, a victim of Indian warfare.

In October 1797, the City of Augusta was organized and became the county's capitol. One lot was for a school, Bracken Academy later Augusta College, and now the site of the public school. Another lot was for the county offices, now a public park. Later, the first Methodist college west of the Alleghenies, known as Augusta College, was founded.

In 1800 the county had a population of two thousand and roads had been opened to the southern part of the county. One by way of Germantown, Stonewall and Wallers Mill (Santa Fe), led to the Licking River at Claysville, then a principal shipping port where flat boats were built, loaded with farm products and floated to New Orleans, the producers walking back through friendly Indian lands.

THANK YOU

I, Gracie Hurst, would like to thank all the local business, friends, family, schools and communities. You have showed my family a great deal of support in this journey. In November 2014, I was diagnosed with a rare ovarian cancer at 8 years old. The tumor I had was a small cell carcinoma hypercalcemic tumor, which I am the 2nd youngest to have this type. I have been through 3 cycles of chemo that is not doing what they would like. So, now my cancer has spread to other areas. Now I will be taking a new chemo and adding radiation for 5 weeks for 5 days a week. Another surgery again at some point later on. Please continue to pray for me, my family, and my doctors to find the right medicines and strength!!

Thanks for your support,

Thoughts and Meditations from the Scriptures

IN PRAISE OF PLACIDITY

Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid. - John 14:27

The poem "Desiderata" by Max Ehrmann opens with the following line: "Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence." The term "desiderata" is Latin for "desired things" and Ehrmann's poem is a compendium of sage advice for a well-lived life. Focusing only on the first line of the poem, we would do well to remember that the hustle and bustle of our modern world is fast, noisy, and devoid of a sense of calmness and serenity that is important to our well-being. While there are times when we crave speed and excitement, a well-balanced life also needs a fair amount of quiet calm. Time spent alone, and without the noisy distractions of phones, televisions and computer screens, can be instrumental in slowing us down. Turn off the lights and any electronic devices, including your phone, yes, your phone has an "Off" button. Spend some time just being there. We forget that we don't always have to be doing something. Sometimes just being is enough. Try to carry your newfound sense of calmness and serenity back into your everyday life. And finally, realize that you can take a short serenity break anytime by just closing your eyes and going to a peaceful and relaxing spot in your mind. – Christopher Simon

ROBBED OF CENTRAL VISION

Age-related macular degeneration (AMD) is the eye disease that robs people of central vision and for which there is no cure; however, there is hope for slowing its progression. AMD involves the breakdown of the crucial central portion of the retina. As a result, the disease makes it difficult for AMD sufferers to see fine detail and read printed material. "Dry" macular degeneration is the more common, less destructive form of the disease. It occurs when deposits called "drusen" collect behind the retina. Since dry macular degeneration can develop into the more serious "wet" form of the disease, it is important to see an ophthalmologist if your vision starts getting blurry or if you have trouble reading or recognizing faces.

This disease attacks the macula of the eye, where our sharpest central vision occurs. This is the vision we use to drive, read, recognize faces and perform daily tasks. For more information on this subject or to schedule an appointment, call KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE at 606.759.7883 or 800.658.7282. Church News

by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

We said goodbye to two members of our church this past week. Margie Hill, our organist for many years, completed her journey here on earth this past week. There will be a memorial service for her in the near future. Howard Murray passed away on Feb. 8. Howard was my "go-to guy". If I needed something to be done in the church, I would go to Howard and he would see that it was done. We will miss both of these leaders in the church.

Betty Bush has been in the hospital but came home Sunday.

Earl & Millie Bush journeyed to St. Louis this week to visit their newborn granddaughter.

Maryalis Brindley was home with bronchitis.

We had 49 in attendance this week. Lynn Darnell was the liturgist and Susie Hargett led the singing. Vidie Grace and Paul were the musicians.

Monday night we have our soup supper. Wednesday we have our bread basket meal.

I am now fulfilling requests for aid from the Augusta Ministerial Association. I will be in the Fellowship Hall Friday morning from 10-12 noon and on Monday night from 4-6 p.m. These are the only times that I will be available.

My sermon this week was taken from Mark and it told of the people who came to Jesus for help. There were the ones who brought and there were those who watched. We need more in the church who will bring people to Jesus and fewer people who are just watching.

BROOKSVILLE CHRISTIAN
by John Elfers

Hello, my name is John, and I'm a sinner. That's what is so amazing about Grace. It is by grace we have been saved. Grace and truth come through Jesus Christ. We are made alive with Christ even though we were dead in our transgressions. As real Christians we show grace to those who need it most so that we can all know the love of Jesus! That was Ron's message Sunday. He reminded us that it's easy to show love to those who are like us. How much better would the world be if we also loved and helped those who are not like us.

In other news, we enjoyed a great breakfast, this time with live entertainment performed by B.R.A.T.S or Brooksville Religious Arts & Theater Society. This is the Brooksville Children's Choir comprised of boys and girls from local churches. They did an excellent job. If you know anyone who would like to join B.R.A.T.S or get involved in Brooksville Christian Church, please contact Pastor Ron at 606-782-2731 or Youth Minister Shane at 606-402-1676.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF AUGUSTA
by Rita Bradford

Hello & God's Blessings. from The First Baptist Church of Augusta. Brother Tony's sermon was taken from Matthew 6:5 & 6, 14-18, 20 & 21, 33. It was titled "Loving God". How do you show God that you love Him? We ask God for many things in our life and continually receive His many blessings, but in what ways do you show God how much you love Him?

Our Prayer Meeting will resume the first Wed. in March at 7 p.m. We invite you to come & see what true love is all about. Give God your broken heart & let Him make it whole again. Sunday School Classes are 9:30 a.m. This week's lesson is titled "Serving the Least". This lesson will help you recognize and respond to those around you who are in need of a little love & compassion. Our Sunday Morning Worship begins at 10:30 a.m. Sunday Evening Services begin at 6 p.m.

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES
by Caroline Jefferson

Our church family and the community were saddened by the death of Mary Pat Hitch last week. Our deepest sympathy is extended to Charles and the entire Hitch family as we remember Mary Pat for her devotion to St. James and her excellent example of being a good Christian wife, mother, grandmother, friend and confidant! While we rejoice in her happiness in eternal life, we mourn the loss of this most down-to-earth, common sensed lady! Rest in peace, Mary Pat!

This past Sunday Msgr. Dominic drew the winning raffle ticket and handed it to Ms. Debbie who was pleasantly surprised to read her own name! Congratulations!

Happy Valentine's Day wishes and blessings are extended to everyone as we send greetings to loved ones on Saturday. While this day has grown commercially over the last several years, the idea of expressing our love and appreciation should not be limited to just this one day. Let us strive each day to follow Jesus' example of loving and giving! Monday is President's Day and we should heed these words of Abraham Lincoln: "My concern is not whether God is on our side; my greatest concern is to be on God's side, for God is always right!"

CONCORD UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Just one more weekend with the sermon series "Making Sense Of The Bible". Then it is time to move on to Lent and the Easter season. Then on Wednesday we will have an "Ash Wednesday" service to kick off the Lenten service at 7 p.m. on the 18th. Come join us!

"Come, rejoice, and sing! God's love is showered over you this day!" This was part of the call to worship Pastor Elizabeth Smith used to greet us on Sunday. NEW LIFE FELLOWSHIP

God blessed us with a "spring-like day" this past Sunday, February 8th. The special this morning was brought by Sheryl Hicks singing "Born For This". We need to devote time to God every day in prayer, devotions, and studying the word.

Upcoming: Valentine's Day Banquet Feb. 14th 6:30 p.m. at the church; Feb. 21 from 9-3 p.m. there will be a concealed weapons carrying class at the church. This is open to the public. Bracken County Cancer Support: A Benefit to our Community

Following her own bout with cancer, Karin Poe realized that this devastating disease affects every part of a family. She joined a group, The Cancer Care Club, that provided gas cards for cancer patients traveling to receive treatments. This group was based in another county although it did help Bracken County residents. Karin and Janice Hiles decided in 2012 to branch out and start a group in Bracken County for Bracken Countians. In February 2012, with the support of the Brooksville Christian Church, the Bracken County Cancer Support Group began their journey. Many other members of our community believed in the purpose of this group and joined the fight against cancer.

The sole purpose of this group is to raise money to donate, in the form of gas cards, to cancer patients. A variety of activities are used to raise the necessary funds. We have sponsored quarter auctions, worked at regular auctions, as well as bake sales and silent auctions. Community groups have been instrumental in helping raise these funds, such as the Shoot for a Cure by FCCLA and FBLA, individual donations and memorials, cruise ins, homemaker clubs, school groups, churches, bank fund raising, and others. In the 3 years since its beginning, over 86 individuals have been given more than $25000 in aid. The group appreciates many, many in this county for their support and help in achieving their goal.

The Bracken County Cancer Support Group meets every other month (odd months) at the Brooksville Christian Church at 6:30 on the second Tuesday of the month. To help this group, simply come to a meeting. Your help and support is welcomed. Those who have received this help are forever grateful and none of us know when we will need a helping hand. If you know of someone who would benefit from our help, call Karin at 606-782-5173 or Janice at 606-782-0343.

The basics of food label terms

Submitted by: Shannon Smith, CEA for Family and Consumer Sciences

When you go grocery shopping, you've probably seen some new terms on the labels of your favorite foods. These terms are not meant to cause confusion but can help you make more informed choices about the foods you eat. This is a good thing, as concerns among consumers about food origin, safety and quality continue to increase.

Here is a list of terms found on food labels and their definition as defined by the U.S. Department of Agriculture or the Food and Drug Administration.

Organic — Products that are USDA-certified organic means that the food is produced using methods that preserve the environment and avoid most synthetic materials, like antibiotics and certain pesticides. Farms and processors, aside from keeping organic food separate from nonorganic, also must use production techniques that support animal health and welfare, provide outdoor access to animals, use approved materials, do not use genetically modified ingredients and receive annual on-site inspections. Products that meet the organic production and processing requirements are the only ones allowed to be labeled organic in a grocery store.

Natural — The USDA requires products with the natural label to be minimally processed and contain no artificial ingredients. The natural label does not include any standards about farm practices and only applies to the processing of meat and egg products.

GMO — While labeling GMO products is voluntary for food companies, a product with a genetically modified organism means that it was altered with a gene from an unrelated species outside of its natural environment. In many instances, GMO crops designed to resist insect attacks have experienced substantial reductions in insecticide use. Herbicide-tolerant crops have also offered environmental benefits through increased use of soil-protecting no-tillage farming. However, with the advent of herbicide resistance in certain weeds, there is some concern about increasing herbicide use on those farms. The technology was first introduced in the 1990s, and now more than 70 percent of packaged foods in North America contain GMOs. There is no evidence that consuming GMOs impacts human health in a negative way. There are concerns, however, about some GMO crops encouraging the overuse of pesticides and having a negative impact on the environment.

Free-range poultry — This label means the birds were given shelter in a building, room or area with unlimited access to food and fresh water. They were also given continuous outdoor access during their production cycle.

Cage-free — This term means poultry were able to freely roam a building, room or other enclosed area with unlimited access to food and fresh water during their production cycle.

Grass-fed — The designation means the animal was fed primarily grass throughout their life. Organic animals' pasture diet may be supplemented with grain. The USDA does not limit the use of antibiotics, hormones or pesticides for grass-fed label products, therefore you may see a meat product labeled as grass-fed organic when applicable.

Pasture-raised — Currently, there is no federal definition of this term from the USDA due to the number of variables involved in pasture production systems.

The USDA makes no claims about one type of food being more nutritious or safer than another. For more information about food and nutrition, contact the Bracken County Extension office.

Educational programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability, or national origin.

TRASH TALK

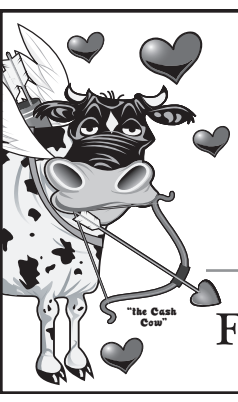

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug
606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! On this date in 1809, Abraham Lincoln was born to Thomas and Nancy Hanks Lincoln in Hardin County, Kentucky. Abraham spent nearly eight years of his life as a Kentuckian before his family crossed the Ohio River into Indiana where they remained for the next fourteen years, eventually settling in Illinois. After serving several political offices, Mr. Lincoln became our sixteenth President, leading this country through the Civil War, and in doing so preserving the Union, by abolishing slavery through his efforts to get Congress to pass the 13th Amendment to the Constitution which permanently outlawed slavery. Sadly, this great man's life was cut short at the age of 56 by an assassin's bullet, but on this anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's 206th birthday, we pause to give thanks to God for providing us with such a great leader at a most critical junction in American History! On Monday, February 16, Americans will celebrate President's Day to honor both George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, arguably the two greatest presidents to serve this country! Americans would do well to heed these words of Mr. Lincoln: "America will never be destroyed from the outside. If we falter, and lose our freedoms, it will be because we destroyed ourselves."

So many things have changed since Mr. Lincoln's presidency, but the virtues of the American people should not be one of them. Technology, as we have expressed many times, is changing on a daily basis and those without virtue or character are attacking businesses through "hacking" and laws must be enacted to protect folks from "cyber-bullying"! Those of us on the fringes of technology are frightened by all the evil of cyberspace while we continue to enjoy the benefits of 'instant communication'! Awareness of the dangers of the internet world must be maintained as we strive to balance those dangers with the conveniences of this modern world invention! While this really has nothing to do with Solid Waste Management, it comes as a gentle reminder to be careful each time you turn on your computer and know that absolutely nothing is ever 'deleted'! All those words, pictures, numbers, hash tags, tweets, messages, etc. are out there!

Perhaps a good mental picture is to think of all that as a cyberspace landfill of deleted information! Just like a material landfill, some things will never degrade and can at some point be retrieved if necessary! Glass bottles, aluminum cans and all plastics will be around for hundreds of years just waiting to be recycled! If you haven't started your recycling system at home or work, now would be an excellent time to begin! All recycling items can be put into one bag and taken to the recycling trailers. Broken down cardboard boxes, aluminum and steel cans, glass jars and food bottles, No. 1 and No. 2 plastics, paper, magazines, and newsprint are all items that can be diverted from the landfill by recycling them! We can't help you with the information in the cyberspace landfill, but we can recycle those confounded computers! Our Office of Solid Waste Management provides an ongoing e-scrap collection of computer and component parts along with outdated or unused cell phones, rechargeable batteries and other electronic office equipment. This era may be known as the throw-away society, but that does not mean everything has to go to the landfill! Please give careful consideration before throwing something in the trash and ask yourself if proper disposal is through RECYCLING, REUSING or REDUCING to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seein' you – Bin & Bug.

THE COUNTY BEACON

Welcome to "The County Beacon". This came to be to help in some small way to inspire, uplift, and encourage those in our community.

Our community has suffered the loss of many the past few months due to tragedies and illness. As time passes so quickly, may we never forget them and may we continue to help and hold their families in our hearts and lift them up.

This week may we lift up Savannah Grace Hurst. A beautiful name for a beautiful and strong 8 yr. old girl called Gracie. She is the daughter of James and Jamie Jett Hurst and was born on August 16, 2006. In November 2014 she underwent surgery at Children's Hospital for ovarian cancer. Gracie is a fighter and continues to fight. A brave little girl that has prayers going up from many. She begins a long journey and her family does also. It is so difficult for them as she continues with treatments. Gracie, we want you to "Fight Like A Girl".

On Wed., Feb. 4, Bro. Bob & Mary Cannon took Rosemary Schiltz to The Parkview Restaurant in honor of her 70th birthday. After a delightful supper they returned to Chatham for a surprise birthday party. She was in shock! There were 18 family members present.

Be a source of love - a beacon of light.

Traci Taylor named Chief Nursing Officer at Harrison Mem. Hospital

In November, Traci Taylor was named the new chief nursing officer (CNO) at Harrison Memorial Hospital, following the retirement of Wendy Reeder in October.

Traci began her career at HMH in 1996 as a surgical nurse. She became the HMH surgical services manager in May 2005 and then, in March 2007, became manager of both the outpatient and surgical services department. In addition, she was the OR supervisor at Medical Heights Surgery Center in Lexington. Besides working in the operating room, she has worked at a private physician office with in-office endoscopy and the GI endoscopy department.

A native of Paris, Kentucky, Traci graduated from Bourbon County High School. She earned an associate degree in nursing from Midway College in 1996. She completed her bachelor of science degree in nursing from Indiana Wesleyan in 2014.

Traci decided to become a nurse after one of her best friends was in a car accident. Her friend was sent to UK, where Traci saw the trauma and ICU nurses at work. "The nurses were awesome there. They were all very skilled and extremely friendly to the family," says Traci.

"I am completely confident in Traci's ability to put the care of the patient first. That is really what is most important to me when selecting the Chief Nursing Officer. Having known and worked with Traci for nearly two decades, I know she has the skill and experience, but most importantly the same mission and vision for Harrison Memorial Hospital and the patients we serve," says Sheila Currans, HMH CEO. "I know all the staff will work with her as she continues to elevate excellence in the nursing care provided at HMH."

Annual Farm Show Celebrates 50 Years of Agriculture

Farms mark the rolling landscapes around our Commonwealth and farmers are as integral to the identity of Kentuckians as they are to the economic impact on our bottom line. Knowledge and wisdom about the land, about family and about commitment have been passed down through the generations around bushels of corn and bales of wheat. And maybe most importantly, the sunburned farmers and the crops they grow have a phenomenal influence on the calories we consume and the money we spend.

Each February in Louisville, farmers, agribusiness executives and leaders in the field gather at the annual National Farm Machinery Show. Held at the Kentucky Exposition Center, the show addresses the challenges of farmers today and the value of the crops that are so important to us. This year's show will be held February 11-14. Admission is free.

This year, as they celebrate the 50th anniversary of the show, the show's importance to the agriculture industry and the citizens of Kentucky still proves its worth.

In February 1966, a few hundred farmers, salesmen and crop experts gathered in the then-named Kentucky Fair & Exposition Center to start a farm show. That year, commodity prices were high and farmers were feeding 90 percent of our nation. No one knew what the show could be or the impact it could have on future generations.

At the opening address of the first annual National Farm Machinery Show, then-Governor Edward Breathitt remarked that the future of the show has "a myriad of other possibilities [for the] agricultural industry."

Foreshadowed by Breathitt, five decades later, more than 850 exhibitors from around the country will journey to Louisville to discuss, share and showcase the industry. This once-tiny farm show is now the nation's largest indoor ag trade show and is the one of our most powerful tools to meet the needs of the industry.

A recent analysis by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture puts the total economic impact of agriculture production, inputs, processing, and manufacturing at nearly $46.3 billion and represents 263,000 jobs in Kentucky.

Frankfort Focus

A Legislative Perspective on the Kentucky General Assembly
State Rep. Mike Denham

If the end of a legislative session is about what laws the General Assembly can pass, the beginning is about what the House and Senate hope will be on that list.

It's not a small number this year, with about a dozen major topics expected to be considered by both chambers and many others also vying for passage. Making that process difficult is the fact that there are only 30 working days and the first four were dedicated last month to electing leadership and establishing committees for the next two years.

As legislators returned to the Capitol early last week, however, the House's agenda began taking shape with the passage of several bills by committee on Thursday.

On that day, the Labor and Industry Committee approved House Bill 2, which would have Kentucky join the 29 other states that now have a higher minimum wage than the one set by the federal government.

This is virtually identical to the version the House passed last year and would be the first increase since 2009. It calls for a three-step approach that would take the minimum wage from the current $7.25 an hour to $10.10 by the summer of 2017. It's estimated this would benefit several hundred thousand workers.

Last fall, a Bluegrass Poll found that 55 percent of Kentuckians favored this approach, while 37 percent opposed it. The rest were undecided.

Around the same time that bill was approved, the House Economic Development Committee voted for House Bill 152, which would reduce state oversight of the telecommunications industry as the nation moves toward greater use of cell service and internet-based calling.

The bill mainly affects suburban and urban areas, allowing the companies to put more time and resources in those next-generation telephone services rather than expanding landlines. More rural areas would see their landline services stay the same, but the companies would not be required to extend them further.

In a tobacco-related issue, the House Agriculture and Small Business Committee took time on Wednesday not discuss a bill but to hear an update from Dr. Will Snell, a University of Kentucky expert on the state's signature crop.

He said the burley belt, which Kentucky dominates, has about 213 million pounds to sell, but the market only needs about 180 million pounds or less. That, on top of growing African production and a rise of e-cigarettes, are contributing to the lower prices growers are now seeing. Dr. Snell estimated sales for the 2015 crop would likely be between $300-$350 million.

In addition to moving legislation forward, the House and Senate also welcomed a number of groups to the Capitol this past week to highlight their causes. That included gifted and talented students, those combating hunger and the 874K coalition, which advocates for the estimated 874,000 Kentuckians who have some form of disability.

While it may seem that the legislative session has just started, more than a fourth of it is already complete. The General Assembly is scheduled to wrap up the bulk of its work by March 9th, returning later that month for two days to consider any potential vetoes.

If you would like to let me know your concerns or thoughts about the bills I have mentioned or any other, there are several ways to reach me or to follow the legislative process. My address is Room 329E, Capitol Annex, 702 Capitol Avenue, Frankfort, KY 40601; or you can email me at Mitchel.Denham@lrc.ky.gov.

To leave a message for me or for any legislator by phone, please call 800-372-7181. For those with a hearing impairment, the number is 800-896-0305. To check the status of a bill, you can call 866-840-2835, and if you have internet access, the General Assembly's website – www.lrc.ky.gov – is another great resource that features the full text of legislation and House and Senate votes.

I hope to hear from you soon.

AG Conway offers consumer tips following Anthem Data Breach

Attorney General Jack Conway and his Office of Consumer Protection are encouraging Kentuckians to take steps to protect their personal information and watch for signs of identity theft following a data breach recently announced by Anthem, one of the nation's largest health insurers.

Anthem has confirmed it was the subject of a "sophisticated, external cyberattack," and that hackers gained access to the names, Social Security numbers, birthdays, addresses, email and employment information of current and former customers, as well as employees. The company has said that the stolen data did not include medical records or credit card numbers.

"Becoming a victim of a data breach can be a frustrating and stressful experience," Attorney General Conway said. "If you have been impacted by this recent cyberattack on Anthem, I encourage you to take advantage of the free credit monitoring and identity protection services being offered by the company. Additionally, consumers can always find a step-by-step toolkit designed to assist identity theft victims on my website, ag.ky.gov. The faster you detect identity theft, the sooner you can report and correct it."

Attorney General Conway and his Office of Consumer Protection also recommend the following tips to help keep you safe from identity thieves:

Check your mail. Open letters you receive and look for notifications that you have been affected by a security breach.

• Take advantage of free credit monitoring services Anthem will be offering to breach victims.

• Consider placing a "fraud alert" on credit reports, which alerts businesses that they should verify identity before issuing credit in a consumer's name. It lasts for 90 days, and you can sign up by contacting any one of the three major credit bureaus (Equifax, 1-800-525-6285, www.equifax.com; TransUnion, 1-800-680-7289, www.transunion.com; Experian, 1-888-397-3742, www.experian.com.)

• Watch for "phishing" emails from scammers claiming to be from Anthem, a credit card bureau or other legitimate company. A legitimate bank or card provider will never ask for your account information by mail or email.

• Be vigilant of phone calls and legitimate-looking websites urging you to give up personal information. Also, never respond to pop-up ads that ask for personal or financial information.

• Monitor credit reports and financial account statements regularly and report suspicious activity to your financial institutions. Free credit reports can be accessed at www.annualcreditreport.com.

• Watch for signs that your identity or credit information has been misused. Some signs include: finding new accounts in your name or receiving credit cards that you did not open; receiving an address or account change notice you did not initiate; being denied credit or favorable credit terms for no apparent reason; or you suddenly stop receiving statements from a creditor for no good reason.

Customers affected by the recent data breach will be receiving a letter from Anthem explaining the breach and how to enroll in the identity theft protection and credit monitoring services.

Consumers with questions or concerns about the cyberattack are encouraged to call 1-877-263-7995 or visit www.anthemfacts.com. For information on preventing identity theft or to report suspicious activity, contact the Federal Trade Commission at 1-877-438-4338 or the Office of the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Hotline at 1-888-432-9257.

The Office of the Attorney General's identity theft toolkit is available at ag.ky.gov/idtheft.

Dept. of Revenue Temporarily Holding Electronic Returns

Due to issues with Turbo Tax returns

Fraudulently filed tax returns through TurboTax has Kentucky and other states putting a temporary hold on processing all electronic returns. The Kentucky Department of Revenue anticipates just a few additional days to the refund process, with the goal of returning to normal processing late next week.

"We have strong internal controls to protect Kentucky taxpayer data and personal information," said Mack Gillim, executive director of the Office of Processing and Enforcement. "With our internal fraud detection processes, as well as the fraud analytics evaluations our third party vendor performs, we are able to kick out thousands of fraudulent returns."

According to the department, filing electronically is still safe and the quickest way for taxpayers to get their refund. This delay is temporary and the refund may take closer to two weeks for processing instead of 7-10 days.

The current issue is confined to returns processed through Intuit, Inc.'s TurboTax program. Intuit, Inc. is working closely with states to assess and resolve the issue.

In addition to states' fraud detection systems flagging suspicious returns, some taxpayers tried to file their taxes and received a message through TurboTax saying their return had already been filed. This prompted calls to various state revenue departments further alerting them to suspicious filings.

Intuit, Inc. has set up a dedicated call center, 800-944-8596, for customers to call if they believe they have been victims of tax fraud. In Kentucky, taxpayers can call the Department of Revenue Taxpayer Assistance line at 502-564-4581.

Electronic filing in Kentucky has been available to individuals since the 1995 tax year. It is the only way to have a refund direct deposited. In the last 5 years, e-filing for individuals has increased from 65 percent to more than 84 percent in 2014.

Panthers fall to Mustangs 46-54

The new look Augusta Panthers, minus Camryn Snapp (torn ACL), took the floor on Friday night in Alexandria against the Bishop Brossart Mustangs. The last time these two teams met the Panthers cut down the nets and hoisted the 10th region All 'A" title in an overtime thriller, 67-65.

Since that last meeting, the Panthers only game was the in the All "A" state tournament against Owen County. So Augusta came in well rested but needing to reinvent themselves after the loss of Snapp. The game started at a slow pace as two minutes passed before either team was able to score until Owens Crawford found David Tucker on the baseline for a short jumper to put Augusta up 2-0. The two squads would battle back and forth until the quarter ended in a 9-9 tie. Business would pick up in the 2nd quarter as both teams seemed more comfortable on the offensive end. The Panthers had an opportunity to tie or take the lead before the half but the final attempt fell short and the Mustangs led, 23-21.

About midway through the 3rd quarter Augusta held a 30-27 advantage and with the ball, looked to extend their lead. Unfortunately a turnover led to a Brossart fast break and basket that started a 12-0 Mustang run that put them in front 39-30 and prompted an Augusta time out. The Panthers would crawl back into the game before the end of the quarter but still trailed 42-37.

In the final quarter Augusta just couldn't hit the shots necessary to complete a comeback and fell, 54-46. The loss was the Panthers' second in a row, dropping them to 16-8.

"I was impressed with the team tonight," said Coach Hinson, "We have a lot of work to do though. It's kinda like October all over again but there's time to get it together and make it work."

Scoring vs. Brossart: Maddox 18, Crawford 9, Shrader 9, Tucker 6, and Shoemaker 4.

While the Panthers were off between games the 39th district draw took place. Augusta's girls and boys will face Bracken County on February 23rd at the Fieldhouse. The girls tip-off at 6:30 p.m. with the boys to follow at 8 p.m. St. Patrick and Mason County girls and boys will play on Tuesday night. The winners will face off in the championship games on Thursday, February 26th.

This sale is to satisfy a Judgment and Order of Sale in favor of L&N Federal Credit Union, against the Defendants herein in the principal amount of $62,195.42, plus interest OF $6,432.70 FROM June 10, 2014 thereafter until judgment, at the rate of 6.125% per annum beginning June 10, 2014 until paid, together with amounts for late fees and assessments, advancements for the protection of the property, taxes and insurance, escrow advances, and reasonable attorney fees of $1,700.00, insurance premiums and court costs incurred herein. The real estate to be sold is described as follows:

A certain lot or parcel of land situated, lying and being in the City of Augusta, Bracken County, Kentucky and bounded and described as follows:

Situated, lying and being on the southwest corner of Third and Bracken Streets in the City of Augusta, Kentucky, fronting ninety-five (95) feet on Bracken Street and one hundred and twenty-seven (127) feet and eight (8) inches, more or less, on third Street, bound on the west by the property of Jennie Wood and on the south by the lot of Maurice Snedaker (now Garner Murray).

There is excepted from the foregoing tract that certain parcel containing 0.073 acre conveyed by Jackie Lou Fraysure, et al, to Mack L. Wallace and Wilma J. Wallace by deed dated July 30, 1979 and recorded on August 7, 1979 in Deed Book 98, Page 436, Bracken County Clerk's Records.

SOURCE OF TITLE: Being the same property conveyed to Eddie D. Moore and Rita S. Moore, both unmarried, by deed dated July 16, 2004 of record in Deed Book 173, Page 583 in the Office of the County Court of Bracken County, Kentucky.

The property shall be sold to the highest and best bidder(s) and said purchaser shall be required to pay cash or the sum of ten percent (10%) of the bid price in cash deposit with the balance of the purchase price to be due and payable in cash or certified funds, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety, bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the date which is thirty (30) days following the date of sale, until paid, and payable to the Master Commissioner.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2015 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

Sports in Kentucky

Warning for No. 1 Wildcats: Once upon a time there was Phi Slama Jama

Kentucky: Number one in America unplugged, kinda, sorta.

Karl Anthony Townes logged 31 warrior minutes at Florida ...Willie Cauley-Stein threw down a Wow 'Em dunk (counted two points) ... Aaron Harrison swished a pair of clutch shots from distance to scuttle a rally ... and the Wildcats made 21 of 22 free throws.

Good stuff, right? Good individual stuff.

It's February and spectacularly gifted and deep rostered Kentucky still looks too much like a Phi Slama Jama with coach (Guy Lewis) screaming in their faces.

Florida, an ordinary team, showed up well prepared for its Super Bowl day and kept the score close with a flurry of weakly-contested lay-ups, which laid bare UK's fundamentally poor weak-side help defense (two blocked shots).

Of Florida's 49 shots the Gators created 21 clear looks from outside. Fortunate for UK, they missed 15. For the game, the Gators shot a gaudy 49 per cent.

It's February and Kentucky still sledge hammers opponents with vastly superior talent, depth and platoon at a time when adjectives for a 23-0 team ought be "grrrrreat team defense," poise, rhythm and flow.

When a television analyst tells viewers, "Kentucky does pretty much what it has to do to win," (ESPN's Jay Bilas), it is not compliment but a warning and reminder for high expectation Big Blue Nation, "hey haven't we seen this movie before?"

History reminds us of high-powered titans past, ...

√ In 1966 Kentucky was No. 1 by this time of year and headed for a Final Four show down with No. 2 Duke. Then came Texas Western and that moment when a sports writer who had just covered the 'all-white' UK-Duke game, leaned and whispered to fellow sitting next to him, "Hey, didja notice Kentucky is all white and old Don Haskins has five black guys out there?"

√ 1983 Houston's much-heralded Phi Slama Jama used what was called "a frenetic, playground-influenced style of basketball," to build a 26-game win streak all the way to the NCAA title game where they became ordinary cougars again, scoring 52 points in a stunning loss to North Carolina State.

√ In 1991, Nevada Las Vegas was 34-0 and defending national champion going to the Final Four. Duke shocked Jerry Tarkanian's Runnin' Rebels in the semi-finals.

Fates of Rupp's Runts, Houston and UNLV are fair warning. Given time of year, this Wildcat conglomerate ought be more complete.

Things to watch, maybe these:

√ How many players are engaged during time outs?

At Florida Dakari Johnson played nine minutes (one shot, two turnovers) then sat glum on the bench, seemingly disconnected.

√ Huddle time and time outs. What wear-on-the-psyche signs show on player faces after having had a middle-aged man scream into them every day for five months?

√ Trey Lyles, a no-show for three games. Could diagnosis of his mystery illness reveal a case of disgruntlement caused by playing time and place in the platoon pecking order?

√ Finally, how much a distraction these days the ever looming presence of scouts for the NBA Draft?

Second week in February ... No. 1 looks kinda, sorta unplugged.

Forbes Column On Calipari

In a column for Forbes Magazine February 7, Roger Groves, Professor of Law and Director of the Business Law Program at Florida Coastal School of Law, weighed in on John Calipari.

First, let's hope Groves keeps his day job.

Second, copy editors at Forbes should be reprimanded for letting this column's errors, and misspelling get through. Jay Bilas's name is not spelled Bilias.

Third, does using Groves' piece, demonstrate a Forbes Magazine desperation for an opinion piece?

Headline: Why They Hate John Calipari Outside of Kentucky is (hate) gimmick without merit.

"What else does Calipari have to do to gain the admiration of the basketball public?" Groves howls righteously. "The apparent answer: Stop recruiting one-and-done athletes."

Groves goes on to manipulate, inject racism and affirmative action into his weakly researched mix. You can read the column for yourself: http://www.forbes.com/sites/rogergroves/2015/02/07/why-they-hate-john-calipari-outside-of-kentucky/

Meanwhile, the Forbes headline goes too far. If anyone hates John Calipari, let's see his/her name on the record.

Like you, I love the wins, a winning team (when it plays like one), and seeing the word Kentucky in good light news instead of ISIS.

My oppositions to Calipari have not changed ...

√ Things Calipari did to get to Kentucky. NCAA copped out and no teevee analyst wants to risk a career discussing, preferring instead the Jay Bilas approach: Kiss-up: "Calipari will be in the Hall of Fame." Maybe.

√ Unchanging: A college coach with priority to enrich a few young men ahead of educating (all) of those entrusted to him, is exploitation.

Back to Roger Groves' last paragraph. "So while Calipari is perceived as the embodiment of the wrong-headedness of college sports to be pros not students, the fact remains he is among the best at what he is paid to do, and those perceptions are not reality in this instance."

Comment: Perfect straight line from sublime to the ridiculous.

Dean Smith

1983. I was in Chapel Hill for a week-long sports editors seminar. Guest at one afternoon session was Dean Smith. At Q&A time, I asked the Carolina coach if his four-corner stall strategy in a 79-72 win over Kentucky NCAA tournament, March 19, 1977, was instrumental in the NCAA putting the shot clock into college hoops?

Smith looked left and right, looked this way again, grinned and said, "You must be from Kentucky."

Everyone laughed. Almost.

And so it goes.

Cummins breaks school record; becomes new all-time leading Lady Bear scorer

Bailey Cummins made school history when she surpassed Molly Linville Schultz' 1698 points as all time leading Lady Bear when she scored her 1700th points with 14 seconds left in the Highlands game on February 3rd.

She is shown above right with head coach Patrick Kelsch during a reception held in her honor on Saturday, February 7th. She was also presented with a plaque commemorating her place in Bracken County Lady Bear history.
